

Modern slavery statement for financial year ended 31 December 2017

This statement is made pursuant to s.54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and sets out the steps that EnQuest has taken and is continuing to take to ensure that modern slavery or human trafficking is not taking place within our business or supply chain.

EnQuest PLC is the ultimate parent company of a group of companies and risks relating to slavery and human trafficking are considered across the Group; this statement is therefore made by EnQuest PLC and each of its subsidiaries (EnQuest Heather Limited, EnQuest Petroleum Production Malaysia Limited, EnQuest Britain Limited) that are required to make such a statement in accordance with the Act.

Modern slavery encompasses slavery, servitude, human trafficking and forced labour. EnQuest has a zero tolerance approach to any form of modern slavery. We are committed to acting ethically and with integrity and transparency in all business dealings and to putting effective systems and controls in place to safeguard against any form of modern slavery taking place within our business or supply chain.

Our business

EnQuest PLC is a public listed, independent oil and gas development and production company operating principally in the United Kingdom and Malaysia.

EnQuest's assets include producing oil fields and a portfolio of discoveries.

Our policies

We operate a number of internal policies across the EnQuest group to ensure that we are conducting business in an ethical and transparent manner. These include:

1. Recruitment policy: we operate a robust recruitment policy, including conducting eligibility to work checks for all employees to safeguard against human trafficking or individuals being forced to work against their will.
2. Code of conduct: we have a code that governs the manner in which we behave as an organisation and how we expect our employees to act. It also makes provision for "whistleblowing" so that employees are able to raise concerns about how colleagues are being treated or practices within our business or supply chain, without fear of reprisals.

Our suppliers

EnQuest operates a supply chain policy, pursuant to which we conduct due diligence on all suppliers before allowing them to become a preferred supplier. This due diligence includes a database/online search to ensure the supplier has never been convicted of offenses relating to modern slavery. Where appropriate, we also conduct on-site audits which include a review of the supplier's working conditions.

Further, as part of our contractual arrangements with suppliers, we are entitled to terminate the contract at any time should any instances of modern slavery come to light.

Training

We regularly conduct training for our procurement/buying teams so that they understand the signs of modern slavery and what to do if they suspect that it is taking place within our supply chain.

Approval for this statement

This statement has been approved by the Board of Directors of EnQuest PLC.

Signed:

A handwritten signature in black ink, consisting of a stylized initial 'A' followed by a series of loops and a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

Amjad Bseisu
Chief Executive